

Our History

Farming is in our blood. As third generation farmers, we grew up on the ranch and learned from our parents and grandparents. We have farmed our Sonoma soil since 1927 when our grandparents purchased the Home Ranch. We have over forty-five years of experience growing premium wine grapes. As a family business we enjoy working together as a team, with two generations working side-by-side each and every day.

Our Vineyards

All of our vineyards are located in Sonoma County, with the majority near our home in Sonoma and smaller plantings in the nearby Petaluma Gap and Sonoma Coast region. We farm over 1600 acres of Pinot Noir and Chardonnay in fifteen different vineyards located in four American Viticultural Areas (AVAs): Carneros, Sonoma Coast, Petaluma Gap and Sonoma Valley. But where the real magic happens is in the more than 100 individually farmed sites spread across our fifteen vineyards. (continued)

Customized Farming

We specialize in custom farming for each and every client. We value quality and service above all. Everything we do in the field is focused on maximizing quality of our grapes from pruning, irrigation, canopy management, to nutrients. And our job does not end there. We pride ourselves on providing the very best service possible to each and every one of our clients.

Sustainability

We have employed many sustainable methods of farming ever since we began cultivating our soil in 1927. Over the decades we have gradually increased these practices. We are proud to say that in 2015 we attained 100% sustainable certification for all of our vineyards granted by the California Sustainable Winegrowing Alliance (CSWA). Our efforts are in alignment with Sonoma County's commitment to become the first wine region in the U.S. that is 100% sustainable by 2019.

Quality

We have worked hard for many decades to learn how best to farm each and every row of our vineyards. Many of our vineyards have different microclimates and multiple soil profiles. Through research, trial and error in the field, and critical evaluation of the resulting wines, we have learned how to select the right varieties, clones and rootstocks, as well as row spacing and orientation for more than 100 individual sites. This approach, paired with the appropriate pruning, irrigation, canopy management, and nutrients, is what enables us to develop an extraordinary range of flavors in our Chardonnay and Pinot Noir grapes.

We sell our grapes to over 85 wineries, many of which have been purchasing them for over 20 years. We don't just grow grapes, we cultivate long-term relationships.
